The 1st Virtual student fair of the Caribbean!

On the 2nd and 3rd of December, this fair will be the opportunity to discover the study and training opportunities in the region, and also to interact with the exhibitors and guest experts.

The partners of the ELAN project are pleased to announce the very first edition of the Virtual student fair, dedicated to vocational training and higher education, organized on December 2nd and 3rd 2020 with the support of Campus France, the French national agency for the promotion of higher education, international student services and international mobility.

This fair is free and designed for students (high school and tertiary), parents, teachers and also technical vocational trainees and trainers from the project's cooperation area (English-speaking Caribbean, Haiti, Martinique and Guadeloupe).

With this event, the ELAN project team wishes to promote exchange and cooperation between the 70 exhibitors and their visitors, allowing them to learn about the regional offer of studies and vocational training, and also to exchange with participating institutions and specialists on common regional hot topics during webinars. Visitors will also have the opportunity to consult internship offers, attend workshops to prepare their study abroad experience, assess their level in a foreign language (French or English) and, above all, try to win a prize in the great ELAN contest.

Registration is open and can be done here: <https://www.elan-virtualforum.org>. For more information, visit the ELAN project website or its social media (Facebook, Instagram and Twitter).
